WASHINGTON, February 19.—(Brumidi, the Italian artist who was doing the frescoing round the dome of the Capitol in historical groups, commencing with the landing of Columbus, and to end with the discovery of gold in California, died this morning. He did the elaborate frescoing of the committee rooms and corridors on the basement of the Senate chamber, and also that night-mare painting, with its villainous-looking figure figures on the uppermost ceiling of the dome over the rotunda. This took him four years, and was painted while he was living on his back. The Government paid him $49,000 for it. The frescoing which he commenced two years ago, and which his son can finish, is remarkable in its effect, for while it is done on a flat surface, the figures stand out as if they were raised. Brumidi was seventy-five years of age, and has been very feeble for some time. Although he has received large and liberal sums from the Government for his work, he lived up to his income. His son inherits, it is said, much of the talent of his father, and has done a good deal of the frescoing alluded to.

RICHMOND COUNCILMEN AND THE IRON-CLAD FLEET IN THE JAMES. Messrs. Charles L. Todd and John A. Curtis, of your City Council, were at the Capitol to-day, and called on General Johnston. Subsequently they went to see the Secretary of the Navy, whom they met when President Hayes and party visited Richmond. They added their request that Mr. Thompson will order the fleet of Government iron clads from Brandon to a point on James river near Richmond. This would be an excellent arrangement for the officers and crews of these vessels, because it would enable them to see something of Richmond. The families of the officers could have their quarters in the city, and the officers would be able to visit them daily. Then it would benefit Richmond socially and substantially. General Johnston will second the request. Mr. Todd went to New York on the train to-night, and Mr. Curtis to Richmond by the 8:20 P. M. train.

MR. HUNTINGTON STIRRED UP.—AN IMPORTANT BILL. Mr. Huntington and his friends are here, and are very much stirred up in consequence of the fact that Mr. McLane has reported a bill to the House to prevent the Southern Pacific or any other railroad from passing through the territories without giving the Government control of the same. The Southern Pacific (Mr. Huntington's) is operating under the general act of March 3, 1875, which gave all railroads the right of way through the public domain, with two hundred yards on each side of a road and land for necessary depot buildings. After the passage of the Thurman bill, which gave all railroads the right of way through the public domain, with two hundred yards on each side of a road and land for necessary depot buildings. After the passage of the Thurman bill, which gave all railroads the right of way through the public domain, with two hundred yards on each side of a road and land for necessary depot buildings.

THE NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION. WASHINGTON, February 19.—The department of superintendence of the National Educational Association convened in this city to-day. Representatives were present from almost every State in the Union. Various papers were read, and a resolution adopted providing for a committee of ten to take into consideration the formation of a national council of education to report a plan of organization to the Board of Directors of the National Teachers' Association at their meeting at Chatsqua, N. Y., in June next.

FORFEITED LAND GRANTS OF RAILROAD COMPANIES. WASHINGTON, February 19.—Secretary Schurz presented a report to the Senate to-day concerning land-grants to railroad companies which have not fulfilled the conditions of their grants. Among others, he refers to a number of southern companies which have forfeited their rights to the land granted them, the amount aggregating 4,326,600 acres. The report says that the companies, so far as the Interior Department is informed, neither intend nor are prepared to prosecute work upon their respective grants; in fact, it is understood that a few of the corporations named do not now exist.

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE. WASHINGTON, February 19.—The United States practice ship Mayflower is soon to be sent to the Norfolk navy-yard for docking.

SURGEON WILLIAM S. SIMON HAS BEEN ORDERED TO DUTY AT THE NAVAL HOSPITAL AT NORFOLK IN PLACE OF SURGEON THOMAS N. PENROSE, detached therefrom and ordered to command a member of the Medical Examining Board.

DEATH OF A WELL-KNOWN FRESKO ARTIST. WASHINGTON, February 19.—Constantine Brumidi, a well-known fresco artist of this city, who has for some time been engaged in decorating the interior of the rotunda of the Capitol with a series of fresco pictures illustrative of American history, died here this morning.

Forty-sixth Congress—Second Session. WASHINGTON, February 19, 1880. SENATE.

The Senate, by a vote of 25 to 13, proceeded to consider the motion of Mr. Davis of West Virginia to reconsider the vote adopting a special committee on the inter-oceanic canal. Mr. Davis explained his reasons for making the motion.

After considerable discussion the Senate, by a vote of 29 to 25, reconsidered the vote by which the resolution for the appointment of a special committee on the inter-oceanic canal had been adopted.

The question then recurred on the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Conkling thought the subject of the inter-oceanic canal should be referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Mr. Bayard thought the Senate never had before a question which more justly demanded the appointment of a special committee than this one.

The morning hour having expired, the Senate resumed the consideration of the 5 per cent. military land-warrants bill.

At 4:15 P. M. the Senate went into executive session, and when the doors were opened, adjourned until to-morrow.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. Mr. Bland, of Missouri, from the Committee on Coinage, Weights, and Measures, reported a bill to establish a mint at St. Louis. Printed and recommitment.

Mr. Blackburn, of Kentucky, endeavored to dispense with the morning hour, so as to proceed immediately with the consideration of the Rules, but was unable to obtain the necessary two-thirds vote, and the House resumed in the morning hour the consideration of the bill regulating the removal of causes from State to Federal courts.

Mr. Herbert, of Alabama, made a long legal argument in support of the bill, but at the expiration of the morning hour it went over without action, and the House, in Committee of the Whole, resumed the debate upon the revision of the Rules.

Mr. Stephens, of Georgia, asked leave to address the House for ten minutes.

Mr. Blackburn objected on the ground that the House was not in Committee of the Whole, and the motion was not sustained.

Mr. Conger moved that the committee rise and the House go into Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, in order to give Mr. Stephens an opportunity to speak.

Mr. Stephens then addressed the House in opposition to Rule 21, saying he did not believe that, according to the Democratic doctrine of Jefferson, Madison, and Jackson, it was ever intended that the appropriation bills should be encumbered with outside legislation. It would tend to any progress in legislation in this country, it had been in excluding from the appropriation bills other matters as riders. He repudiated the so-called Democratic doctrine that it is proper to seek redress of grievances by withholding appropriations. It had never been Democratic doctrine, but was a mere political doctrine. The new doctrine of making way on the veto power through means of the appropriation bills was not Democratic, was not Republican, and was anti-constitutional. He had opposed it during the extra session last year. He opposed it now, and should oppose it hereafter.

At the conclusion of Mr. Stephens' remarks the House again went into Committee of the Whole on revision of the Rules, and finally adopted in place of clause 3 and all previous amendments a substitute offered by Mr. Morrison, of Illinois, to the effect that no provision of any appropriation bill or amendment thereto, changing the existing law shall be in order, except such as, being germane to the subject-matter of the bill, shall not exceed expenditures. This substitute was adopted by 123 to 95, and applause on the Democratic side.

Several other amendments to this clause were offered, but voted down, and its consideration brought to a close by the adoption of Mr. Morrison's substitute.

At 4:45 P. M. the House adjourned.

An Appeal for Help for Colored "Refugees" in Kansas. New York, February 19.—The morning papers contain a call for aid from Dr. S. Schulz, president of the Mechanics Bank, J. S. Schulz, and other prominent gentlemen of this city, soliciting help for colored refugees in Kansas. The card says there are already 15,000 to 20,000 negro emigrants in that State, and the country is already full of them, and that the country is already full of them, and that the country is already full of them.

Heavy Gales. LONDON, February 19.—A Madrid dispatch reports heavy gales yesterday on the coasts of Galicia, Asturias, and Biscay. Many fish-boats with crews were lost, and several shipwrecks occurred.

Foreign Notes. LONDON, February 19.—A Cologne dispatch says news from May have been received at Odessa that the Turcoman chiefs recently met near Merv, and resolved to send messengers to Persia and India asking for support.

HELP IN TIME.—Help to be effective should be timely. When the kidneys grow inactive, as they are apt to do, it is wise to tend them and the bladder early and judiciously, and in performing their very important functions. The renalis energy is infused into their operations without danger of exciting them, and with great benefit to the general health, by using Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a diuretic. Powerful stimulants are rather calculated to injure than to benefit the kidneys and bladder, but this reliable promoter of energy imparts to them the requisite amount of impetus and no more. It should be remembered that kidney and bladder complaints, in an advanced state of development, very frequently baffles medical skill and prove fatal. To guard against disastrous consequences, repel their advance by the means suggested. R. W. W. F. M.

not been affected by the excitement attending the explosion. In the House of Lords to-day, Lord Blandford, alluding to the late attempt on the Czar's life, said the Duchess of Edinburgh, who is now in St. Petersburg, desired to quit a scene of so much domestic investigation.

INVESTIGATION IN THE CAUSES OF THE EXPLOSION. ST. PETERSBURG, February 19.—(General Gourko, Governor-General of St. Petersburg, was engaged at the Winter Palace during the whole of the night of the 17th instant investigating the circumstances connected with the explosion. It has been ascertained that the dynamite was fired by an electric battery. The cellars of the palace have long been used for storing purposes, and appear to have been occupied by four workmen, three of whom have been arrested. The fourth man is missing. Many arrests have been made in the Winter Palace and its immediate neighborhood.

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THE EXPLOSION. ST. PETERSBURG, February 19.—The Novaya Vremia publishes the particulars of the attempted assassination of the Imperial family, showing that dinner was appointed for 7 o'clock Tuesday evening. If it had not been accidentally delayed all would have been seated at the moment of the explosion. As it was, their escape was very narrow.

The Emperor, the Empress, the Princess, and the Grand Duke, were about to enter the dining-hall through one door, and the other members of the Imperial family, except the Empress, by another, when the explosion took place. Two servants who were in the dining-hall were injured. The number of the explosion was such that a number of the windows of the palace and adjacent houses were shattered. The gas was blown out, and complete darkness prevailed. The bodies of two more soldiers have been found among the debris, and of the forty-five injured several have since died.
